

Jesus Says, "I AM the Good Shepherd"

John 10:11-21

- I. Unlike the Pharisees, Jesus, as the Good Shepherd, Willingly Lays Down His Life for the Sake of His People (10:11-13)
- II. Those Who Belong to Jesus Have an Intimate Closeness with Him (10:14-15)
- III. Jesus' Obedience to the Father Fosters a Special Love Between Them (10:17)
- IV. Jesus' Death Was Not a Result of Unforeseen Circumstances; It Was in Obedience to the Father's Will (10:18a)
- V. Jesus' Resurrection Wasn't an Afterthought; Death Has No Power Over Him (10:18b)
- VI. Through Jesus' Death & Resurrection Believing Gentiles Now Belong to the Lord Along with Believing Jews (10:16)
- VII. Jesus' Claim to Be The Shepherd of Israel Who Would Die and Rise Again Divided the People (10:19-21)
- VIII. People Today We Need to Be Careful Not to Follow
 - A. Christian Speakers or Authors In It for Selfish Gain
 - B. The Leaders of Psuedo-Christian Cults
- IX. We Need to Keep People with Selfish Motives Out of Church Leadership
- X. We Need to Always Follow Jesus First

Jesus Says, "I AM the Good Shepherd"

John 10:11-21

- I. Unlike the Pharisees, Jesus, as the Good Shepherd, Willingly Lays Down His Life for the Sake of His People (10:11-13)
- II. Those Who Belong to Jesus Have an Intimate Closeness with Him (10:14-15)
- III. Jesus' Obedience to the Father Fosters a Special Love Between Them (10:17)
- IV. Jesus' Death Was Not a Result of Unforeseen Circumstances; It Was in Obedience to the Father's Will (10:18a)
- V. Jesus' Resurrection Wasn't an Afterthought; Death Has No Power Over Him (10:18b)
- VI. Through Jesus' Death & Resurrection Believing Gentiles Now Belong to the Lord Along with Believing Jews (10:16)
- VII. Jesus' Claim to Be The Shepherd of Israel Who Would Die and Rise Again Divided the People (10:19-21)
- VIII. People Today We Need to Be Careful Not to Follow
 - A. Christian Speakers or Authors In It for Selfish Gain
 - B. The Leaders of Psuedo-Christian Cults
- IX. We Need to Keep People with Selfish Motives Out of Church Leadership
- X. We Need to Always Follow Jesus First