

We Are the Body: 1 Corinthians

Paul's Example of Changing His Behavior to Clearly Communicate the Gospel (9:19-27)

- I. Paul Changed His Behavior Depending on Who He Was With to Communicate the Gospel without Hindrance (9:19-23)

- II. Paul Worked Like an Athlete to Lead Others to Christ, Having the Hope of Eternal Rewards (9:24-27)

- III. Applications:
 - A. We Need to Know God's Word so We Understand When We Need to Set Aside Our Preferences for the Sake of the Gospel
 - We need to be able to discern which cultural practices we can engage in and which we should avoid

 - We should love people so much that we're willing to give up our preferences to share the Gospel with them

 - B. We Need to Repent of Our Complacency and Let the Gospel Compel Us to Love and Witness to Others

We Are the Body: 1 Corinthians

Paul's Example of Changing His Behavior to Clearly Communicate the Gospel (9:19-27)

- I. Paul Changed His Behavior Depending on Who He Was With to Communicate the Gospel without Hindrance (9:19-23)

- II. Paul Worked Like an Athlete to Lead Others to Christ, Having the Hope of Eternal Rewards (9:24-27)

- III. Applications:
 - A. We Need to Know God's Word so We Understand When We Need to Set Aside Our Preferences for the Sake of the Gospel
 - We need to be able to discern which cultural practices we can engage in and which we should avoid

 - We should love people so much that we're willing to give up our preferences to share the Gospel with them

 - B. We Need to Repent of Our Complacency and Let the Gospel Compel Us to Love and Witness to Others